“Creating collections worthy of generational legacy requires precision, grace and a great sense of pride in one’s work.”

Jay Gorsia

JAY GORSIA

The Jay Gorsia brand was born out of deep love for artistic expression and creative discipline. Gorsia's journey has taken him from designing high-end residential homes across the globe from New York to Honolulu.

Through a deep understanding of architectural foundations, his furniture designs are beautiful, ergonomic and proportionally scaled to human body.

For over 25 years, Gorsia has been making the highest quality furniture from the finest materials and expert craftsmanship in India. It has evolved from a small workshop into a world-class facility through a process of creative experimentation and rigorous learning.

DESIGN PHILOSOPHY

The fusion of design and beauty is the core of the Gorsia design philosophy. Furniture should not only exude style and luxury but should also perform well. Furniture should enhance the lives of its owners and be part of creating a sanctuary in their home. The result is an elegant line of furniture that is incredibly well made with nothing to hide.

As a New York-based architect and designer, He draws upon the influences of the Bauhaus and Art Deco movements of the 1930s. Form and function flow together with splashes of tasteful style. A particular sensibility and flair are built into the Gorsia design language. Gorsia blends these classic concepts and brings them into a contemporary context.
